

My name is Joe Hodges. I worked as a mechanical engineer and maintenance supervisor for 40 years with Corning Glass and AVX, Inc. in Raleigh. I retired in 2001 and worked another five years for AVX as a consultant.

My wife (Joy Hamilton) and I purchased a lot in Sea Gate in the late 1980s. We bought a house built by the Havelock High School carpentry shop in the early 1990s. We used it as a vacation home until 2009 when we built our current residence and moved here permanently.

We have made a lot of progress here in recent years. I appreciate all the hard work done by the Board, and especially by Norm Price, to get us to the point where we are now. I am running for a Board position because I want Sea Gate to continue to be a great community in which to live.
